

According to the United Nation's High Council on Refugees (UNHCR), there are currently over 10 million refugees in the world. Life in refugee camps is hard—in many cases food and clean water are scarce, makeshift shelters provide inadequate protection from the elements and poor sanitation breeds disease.

A donation of a few dollars can provide bars of soap to refugee camps to help prevent the spread of diseases like cholera.

A donation of $100 per month can distribute 200 portable water purifiers in a refugee camp.
